Saturday is Children's Day.

THE summer season is perhaps the time when the most rapid growth and physical development of children is accomplished, owing to the increased activity and abundant fresh air. The numerous out-of-door sports and games provided for the little folks attest to the observation and appreciation of this fact by manufacturers at least, whose interesting inventions and fascinating devices, which offer amusement and often instruction as well, are valuable to both mother and child alike. With every faculty keenly aroused and with restless hands and feet employed in the pursuit of some pleasing sport, the child is much too absorbed and occupied to seek mischief, and consequently happy results ensue. Our Toy Department is the most complete storehouse of good times and playthings for youngsters in this part of the country. Of course, to play properly a child must be comfortably and sensibly clothed, and along with our regular stock of junior ready-to-wear apparel we can supply simple, practical suits of linen, duck and gingham, all washable garments, which are suitable for this purpose.

For every-day wear and "dressups" for children, girls and boys, we carry a full line of clothing of which we have made a special study to combine comfort, utility and superior materials with smartness and distinctive styles.

. The Children.

HE most interesting of all people are the young, and there are hundreds among our patrons.

In no other establishment are the comforts and pleasures of children more carefully studied than in our vast emporium. Extensive and comfortable departments are devoted to their interests.

A broad and charmingly lighted section of the third floor, G street side, is filled with frocks for girls of all ages. Many of these are imported, and all represent the best skill of the most celebrated manufacturers at home and abroad.

The muslins are elaborate with lace and ruf-es, the elbow sleeves and deep berthas lending a raceful fluffiness.

Most stylish are the imported piques, linens and reps, all of which display the richness of the hand-emi roldery to excellent effect. The Russian designs are quite in vogue. The fronts are embroidered in flowing floral patterns, the sides and backs being laid in deep plaits. The belt—a necessary adjunct—is loose. The collars and cuffs show masses of embroidery. Some of these are adjustable, being fastened by pretty buttons. This is a very convenient arrangement, as it admits of the collar and cuffs serving for several dresses.

These linens and reps are exceedingly durable materials, becoming even prettier after much aundering—and they are also exceedingly fash-onable for almost all occasions.

There are very tasteful and becoming summer coats for misses in linen and pique, the finest having an amount of hand-embroidery in evidence.

Special excellence, as well as special prices characterizes our ready-to-wear lingerie for misses. English eyelet embroidery and Valenciennes lace trim the most elaborate pieces. The same may be said of the summer hosiery, which is particularly beautiful this season.

Sashes are extremely fashionable. Wide, rich in Dresden effects, white or dainty tints are the sush ribbons. The large bow at the back, with flowing streamers, gives a graceful completeness to a young girl's tollet. However, some well-dressed misses prefer a silk girdle, or ribbon the belt width—both of which are fashionable.

Gloves for girls are in silk or lisle, in all the popular shades. They should be chosen with care as to their fit and appropriateness.

In the hearts of all girls and most boys is a liking for jewelry, and a little is not in bad taste. There are in our jewelry department dainty and exquisite pieces in gold and sliver, quite appropriate for girls. The neck chains are very pretty, some having unique little lockets or charms.

The green and oak salon is radiant with beautiful hats—many of the loveliest being those charming, flowery creations for the misses of all ages. There are elegant hats of halr and fancy straws and braids, with blooming flowers and waving plumes; large straw hats with wreaths or bouquets and gay ribbons, and lovely lingerie hats, so useful and becoming to all girls.

Nothing should receive more careful considera-tion than shoes, both for girls and boys. It is the inclination of youth to be on the feet, and therefore the encasings of the feet should be as therefore the encasings of the feet should be as near to perfection as possible. In a great measure the nerves are affected by the care given the feet. All these points have received attention, and from our full supply of shoes any boy or girlican be perfectly, gracefully and, above all, comfortably fitted. This is the season for low shoes, and they are particularly bandsome and made of the best materials; moreover, the prices are exceedingly reasonable.

Boys are well provided. Their ready-to-wear suits are the most attractive displayed in years. The Eton, the Regatta, the Russian, the cowboy and the blouse suits are all stylish. The rough rider is a favorite with the boys who anticipate a country trip. The latest fashions in neckwear, hats and caps for boys are here in great variety.

At all seasons boys and girls love toys, and at this time things pertaining to outdoor happiness are of most interest to them. Our toy department is quite filled with unique toys, games and sporting articles so dear to a child. Archery sets, ships to sail, games of every description, hammocks, swings, lawn tables and tiny chairs for the little luncheons; tents, with tent chairs, tent trappings of every sort; Indian outfits, wigwams, soldier accouterments, wagons, horses, dolls and doll houses, dishes and housekeeping things, and, conspicuous among them all, automobiles for boys and girls.

Photography is instructive amusing, fascinating. It educates the eye, teaches one to observe more closely the beauties of nature and other objects in the everyday walks of life. It also cultivates artistic taste. Men and women, old and young, enjoy taking pictures. And with the numerous upto-date appliances and labor-saving devices that are constantly being invented it is possible for a child of nine or ten years of age to readily

CAMBRIDGE CLASS DAY

NOTABLE FESTIVITIES AT THE OLD COLLEGE TOWN TODAY.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. June 23.-Class day the great day of social festivities at Harvard University, was observed today with an even more elaborate program than usual After a downpour of rain, which had continued with little interruption throughout the week, today opened with the sun shin ing brightly. SUNDAY SCHOOL EXCURSION.

Enjoyable Program Provided at Marshall Hall Yesterday.

A joint excursion of the Sunday schools of Grace Lutheran, Mt. Pleasant Congregational, Gunton-Temple Presbyterian, Calvary M. E. and First Congregational churches was held yesterday at Marshall Hall. The day was warm and bright, an ideal one for a trip on the water. A large crowd took advantage of the occasion, the Charles Macalester carrying down large loads on each of its trips. The early evening boat brought back the bulk of the children, and the rain came in the evening at a time when those remaining on the grounds easily found shelter.

One of the principal features of the day was the athletic program, which was run off in the shade of the trees. This was in charge of Mr. A. M. Chesley, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A. There was a large number of entries in each event, and there was strong competition for the ribbons awarded the winners.

LODGES A PROTEST.

Mr. Johnson's Views of the Rejection of Bids for Supplying Coal.

A complaint against the rejection of all bids for anthracite coal for the District government has been filed with the District Commissioners by V. Baldwin Johnson, a local coal dealer. With Mr. Johnson's protest is a statement, sworn to before a notary public, setting forth the incident cost in furnishing coal to the District. This is all for the purpose of demonstrating that the figures submitted by Mr. Johnson for supplying coal are not unreasonable and that he has not contemplated more than a reasonable margin of

"I feel that the rejection of my bid," says Mr. Johnson, "is in the nature of a reflection upon my business integrity, in that it implies that, in the opinion of your property clerk, there has been on my part the attempt to procure to a material extent more than a reasonable compensation for my services.

"I must add, also, that a feeling of personal friendship toward you, especially, and your associate Commissioners, with all of whom I have the honor to be personally acquainted, has prompted me in no small degree to this course; for I fear that your property clerk has inadvisedly committed (in his commendable zeal to guard the District's expenditures) a guard the District's expenditures) a somewhat serious mistake, to the disadvantage of the very interests that, I have no doubt, he is entirely sincere in trying to serve. It is my opinion (shared, I think, by all the dealers qualified to judge) that he has fallen into the very popular error of 'holding the penny so close to the eye that the great big silver dollar, only a short distance away, cannot be seen.'

"The coal' contract for the District government is, probably over and over again, the most important of all your contracts. On its effective carrying out depend your water supply, the keeping open of 150 school houses, the ability to operate your fire and police departments, and the making habitable the very building in which the administrative, executive and clerical machiners of your government is housed."
